Look at the boys who are home and then realize that, had the war gone on six months longer, 100,000 more of them would have been sleeping beneath wooden crosses in France, and 300,000 more of them would have been wounded, to say nothing of an additional expenditure of at least fifteen billions of dollars. These are official figures.

What saved them? Our enormous preparation. That broke down German morale and ended the war.

Isn't it worth paying for? A Victory Liberty Loan Button is a badge of honor and an indication of good business sense—as well as a thanksgiving proclamation.

THE FRESH BOY

The teacher's favorite is not always the good boy, who comes to school on time who keeps his eyes demurely on his book, who has the answer ready and right, who minds his own business and keeps out of mischief.

Nor is such a lad invariably the one who in the long run forges to the front and makes good.

There is a line to be drawn between the "bad" boy and the boy whose irrepressible animal spirits are always tempting him away from the printed page to playfulness.

Because he is vivacious he is not necessarily vicious. Because he is mettlesome and even meddlesome, he is not of the lowbrow Lombroso order of ruffian.

Let it be recognized that it is a priceless quality in the human animal, this exuberance that becomes tiresome very quickly to anemic, conventional, deliberate people.

There is great hope for the boy who is "too fresh." He is a trial indeed in the days of his cubhood. He is impertinent and insatiable. He is a Paul Pry ever exploring and asking questions. He burps his fingers, monkey-wise with inane experiment. You cannot say what he will do next, and he keeps the parental heart in the throat with nervous expectancy.

But in the time to come that supply of roaring, racing, full-blooded energy will stand him in good stead.

Some day he may need to draw on that reservoir where the life-force is stored. A great crisis will impose on him a tax heavier than any national impost in wartime.

As the years roll past circumstances will conspire to wear him down—to quench his enthusiasm—to persuade him to desist and submit, and take things easy, and go tamely through the motions instead of with an ardor, splendidly.

Then that untamed restlessness of his early days will save him. He will have a fund of vitality to depend upon.

The boy who seems "too fresh" is often the boy whose appetite for information is a hopeful sign, though his perpetual interrogation may provoke his elders to snub him and may make him a trying traveling companion. That a lad who wants to know so much should be found exasperating is sometimes to the discredit of the one who is exasperated. Undoubtedly in many instances it is a sad mistake to rebuke the inquisitiveness of a child to whom all the world is a miracle. The child that "only does it to annoy because he knows it teases" is not to be confused with the child who sincerely wants to be told the meaning of picture and sound about him.

With the world aging so rapidly there is constantly more for a child to learn. The child who has entered school since the war has the war to memorize as well as everything else. The word never was so full of a number of things for the school child as it is at present. One must come "fresh" to one's desk of a morning to be ready for such a lot of learning as there is to absorb nowadays. Let us give thanks, therefore, for that unspoiled, upspringing veridancy of childhood even as we give thanks for the redness of grass and flowers newly brought by the coming of spring. SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Evangelist G. W. Lawrence will preach at the Seventh Day Adventist church Sunday night on "Who changed the Sabbath; was it divine or human agency."

I saw it in The Progress

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried, some days headachy, dull and unstrung, some days, really incapacitated by illness?

If we all would practice, inside-bathing, what a refreshing change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddied complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clean the inside organs of the previous day's accumulations of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a compound of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweating and purifying the uncleanly night have become real cranks more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone is cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MAY 4

MAN MADE IN THE IMAGE OF GOD.

LESSON TEXTS—Genesis 1:26-28; Ephesians 4:20-24; Genesis 2:1-9.

GOLDEN TEXT—God created man in his own image.—Gen. 1:27.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Our Creator and Father.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What God Expects From His Children.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Loyalty to Our Heavenly Father.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Dignity and Worth of Man.

1. The Creation of Man (Gen. 1:26-28).

1. Time—when the earth, his home, was ready for him. The order in creation shows design on the part of God. He anticipated man's need in storing the coal in the earth, piling up minerals in the rocks, storing electricity everywhere, causing the water to gush from the valleys and hillsides, preparing plants and herbs for the healing of man's injuries and food and raiment adapted to every climatic condition.

2. His nature (vv. 26, 27). He was created in the likeness and image of God. This act was preceded by a special counsel of the Godhead. It was said, "Let us make man." This precludes the foolish and wicked assumption that man ascended from or through the brute. He came into being by a special creative act of God. This creative act is confirmed by Christ (Matt. 19:4; Mark 10:8). With such testimony we can dismiss the evolution theory as to man's origin as a human vagary. This likeness and image is not physical and bodily, but intellectual. (Eph. 4:24), and moral. (Col. 3:10). Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). God's likeness is reflected in man's tripartite nature. As there is a trinity and unity in God, so there is a trinity and unity in man. Spirit is the highest part of man, that which makes it possible for him to know God. The soul is man's self-conscious life, the seat of his emotions and desires. The body is the seat of the senses, the agency by which he knows the world. God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with himself, with whom he could share his glory.

3. His rank and power (vv. 26, 28). Man, the last in creation, was placed above all else, over all the rest of creation. Being in the likeness and image of God, he was fitted to rule. How far short man comes of living up to the position given him by the Creator! The first man was not a savage, neither a baby. Fresh from the Creator's hands he possessed such lofty powers of intellect as to enable him to name the beasts as they passed before him. (Gen. 2:19, 20).

11. Man Alone in Paradise (Gen. 2:7-9).

Adam had a most beautiful place in which to live. "Pleasant to the eyes, and good for food" describes his surroundings. His environment was in keeping with his nature. Eden was only fit for him in an unfallen state. As soon as his nature was wrecked, out he must go. Paradise with all its splendor could not satisfy man. His heart was desolate. Reciprocal love is the only thing that can satisfy the heart of man. Animals of all varieties surrounded him, but none were adapted to be his companions. To accentuate this need God caused the animals to pass before Adam. He was differentiated from all the animals in that he was a personality. He was endowed with the power of love, therefore only a being who could love in return could satisfy him. To meet this need woman was made for man. They had minds alike; they had spiritual natures alike; therefore they could commune together about the things that surrounded them and about God.

Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side. She is therefore one remove further from the earth than man. The fact that woman was made from man's rib points to unity, similarity and equality. God charged this first pair with the responsibility of replenishing the earth. (Gen. 1:28). Marriage is a divine institution and most sacred; for God made them male and female and performed the first marriage ceremony. In view of this polygamy and divorce are grossly criminal. Marriage is the fountainhead of all life, religious, social and national, therefore corruption here is most fatal.

Suppose there were no more advertisements

Just imagine for a minute that some power could stop all advertising. How would that effect you?

It would cut you off from all direct, commercial news about things that you need and use in your every day life. Somebody might be selling a new, better, more economical food; or a utensil that would save money and time; or an article that would add greatly to your comfort and well-being; or some better material for making shoes or clothing---but you would never know it.

Merchants and manufacturers would be unable to tell you about new and better things. They would thus find it hard to get these things on the market, and often would not try.

Merchants, unable to tell you what they had to offer you, could not take the risk of buying goods for which the might have no customers.

"It pays to advertise." And advertising pays not only the advertiser and publisher, but pays you too. It keeps you informed about the thing you need in order to live a profitable, happy and useful life in this age of progress.

Bring the Boys Back

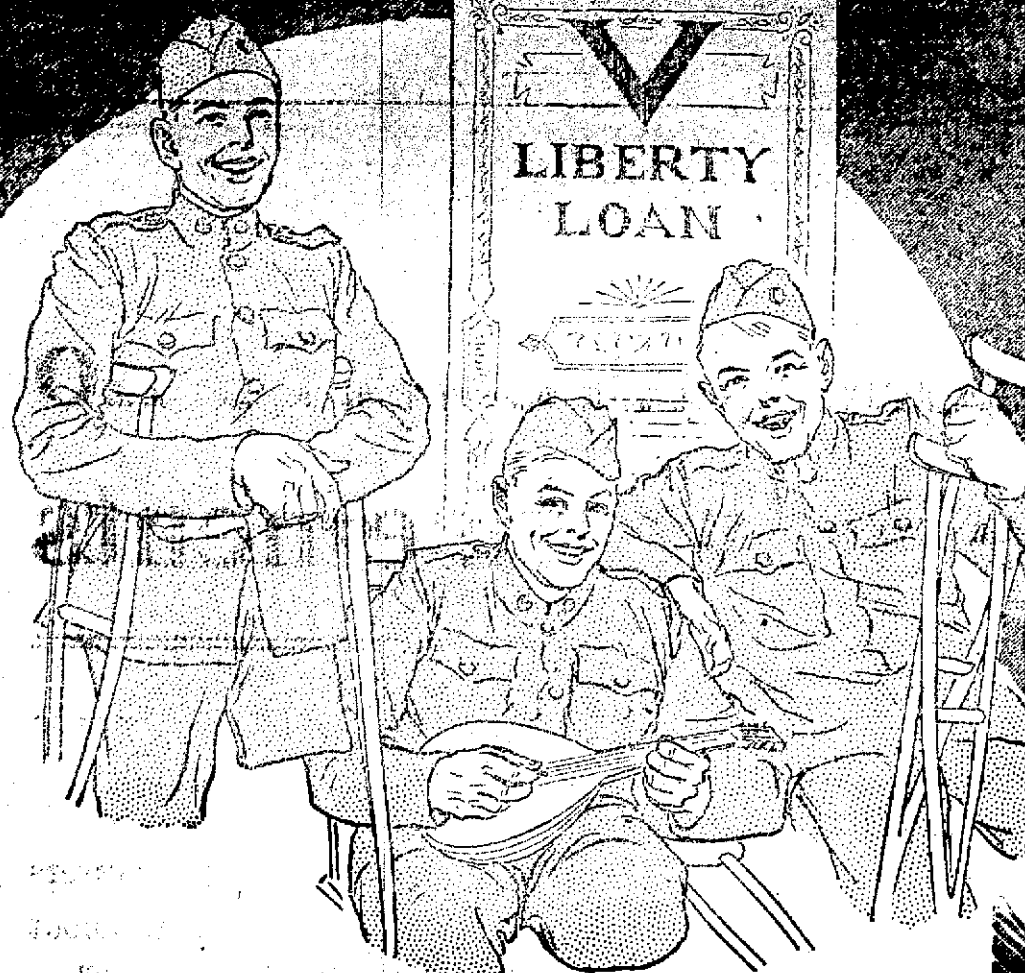

THEY WENT OVER FOR YOU. THEY FOUGHT FOR YOU. SOME OF THEM DIED FOR YOU.

IT'S UP TO YOU TO BRING BACK THE OTHERS. THAT'S WHAT A BIG PART OF THE VICTORY LIBERTY LOAN WILL BE USED FOR—TO PAY THE EXPENSES OF THE MEN WHO DIDN'T COUNT THE COST.

BRING 'EM BACK—QUICK!

NOT TO YOUR LIMIT OF CASH AND RESOURCES.

With THEM- to the VERY LAST

We've been with our boys since the very first—since that day, two Aprils ago, when the Kaiser's throne commenced to totter.

Shall we forsake them now when, wounded and homesick, they need us most?

Shall we abandon them, or shall we stay with them by buying Victory Liberty Bonds?

Well, then, buy to your full limit.

SURGEON PROBES BIRD OF THEFT

Turns Sherlock Holmes When Instruments Are Stolen and Finds Culprit.

SOLVES BIG MYSTERY

For Fifteen Years the Doctor Has Been Grand High Pigeon-Feeder of His Neighborhood—Hence the Story.

Chicago.—This is the solution of the 777 story of the theft of surgical instruments from the office of Dr. E. W. Hunter, 1113 East Sixty-third street. It is a plain unvarnished tale, and might be entitled "Peanuts, Probes and Pigeons."

It begins with the pigeons. They are the ones that get so familiar on short acquaintance at the University avenue station of the "L." There are oodles and oodles of them and they behave as if the station platform were theirs by prescriptive right. If you offer them a peanut from the slot machine, so conveniently at hand, they will take it as, if they were collecting a debt long overdue. If you don't offer them a peanut they look reproachfully at you. If there were an interpreter of pigeon-English at hand, as in Mark Twain's story of the hermit and the jaybirds, he would probably tell you they were remarking:

"This must be one of those pikers from the Gold Coast neighborhood!"

Throws Peanuts to the Birds.

The principal reason the University avenue pigeons are so cocksure of their own privileges is Doctor Hunter. For 15 years he has had an office overlooking the "L" station. For the 15 years he has been the Grand High Pigeon-Feeder of the neighborhood. He not only throws peanuts to the birds, but he levies on his friends. Patients who visit his office always take in a few pennies to buy the succulent fruit of the goober pen.

At the back of his office is an old storeroom, with openings through which the pigeons can fly whenever they are cold or sleepy. And this is where the probes come in.

Miscreant Tracked Down.

The doctor has a fine collection of surgical instruments. They are the pride of his heart and the delight of his eye. They look so nice and shiny and bright in their case one could almost call them tempting if they were anything else than surgical instruments.

On one of these recent balmy, spring-like days, the doctor noticed that some of his probes were gone. The next day some more had disappeared. The doctor became his own Sherlock. There were no clues. But today he followed a trail of surgical instruments into the back room. He was about to telephone for the police when he heard an angry "look-at-the-coon" as ever came from a pigeon's throat.

The doctor continued investigations. He found his missing surgical instruments piled criss-cross and a mamma pigeon trying her level best to shape them into a nest.

Joel Feldman, Organ Grinder, Tells New York Court $35,000,000 Tale.

New York.—When Joel Feldman, an organ grinder, was arraigned in the Harlem police court, charged with having played his unspeakable melodeon late in the night, in violation of a city ordinance, he paid a $2 fine and told a $35,000,000 story.

Feldman said that his uncle, Jacob Horowich, had gone to California in the early days and had died, leaving $35,000,000 invested in gold mines and city property. Feldman brought his wife and six children to America the following year.

Several years he has traveled about America, he said, trying to get legal data on his claims to the Horowich estate and has spent $10,000, all earned with the organ.

Nearly 15,000,000,000 postage stamps a year are required to supply the people of the United States.

Government Loans and Prosperity or Taxes and Tight Money

THE United States has ten billion dollars of unpaid war bills that must be paid if the nation is to maintain its credit standing before the world.

And it must get the money with which to pay them from us—in either loans or taxes.

There's only one choice—to oversubscribe the Victory Liberty Loan now, or to pay even higher taxes later on.

And anybody would rather subscribe to a Victory Loan than pay a tax.

But granting that you would rather pay taxes, the matter doesn't end there.

The consequences of such a choice would affect the prosperity of this country—your individual prosperity—for years to come.

The Government has already had to borrow from the banks a large part of the money with which it is meeting current bills

If we don't raise the money now to pay off those borrowings by oversubscribing the Victory Liberty Loan, the banks in turn cannot lend to American merchants, manufacturers and exporters the money needed for the expansion of American business and the payment of good wages.

Each bank has only so much money to lend. It can't lend it to business men and to the Government at the same time.

The business men MUST have bank loans in order to start industry humming, pay good wages, and bring about the period of prosperity we are all looking forward to.

THE VICTORY LOAN MEANS BUSINESS, new enterprises started, factories enlarged, business expansion, export trade secured, plenty of employment and good wages.

TAXES MEAN TIGHT MONEY, business curtailed, credits cut down, building plans held up, export opportunities lost, factories shut down, and an ever-increasing army of unemployed.

There's no question of patriotism or sentiment involved in that—just hard-headed business sense

It is true, we want to "finish up the job." We want to see that every last one of the boys who fought or prepared to fight for us is brought home, the wounded cared for, good jobs found for all. We want to go over the top in the Victory Liberty Loan, as we have each time the Government has called on us.

We want to do all these things BECAUSE WE ARE AMERICANS

It just happens, in the matter of the Victory Loan vs. Taxes, that it is also to our best interest to do so.

LUBRICANT WILL STOP SQUEAKING

Tighten Bolts Here and There Around Machine and Make Liberal Use of Oil.

TROUBLE IS MOST ANNOYING

Noises Frequently Occur in Springs and Spring Shackles if Neglected and Allowed to Run Dry—Hoods Are Offenders.

"Squeak, squeak," said the car, and again it said "squeak, squeak, squeak," while the driver pondered unmentionable thoughts. "This is one of the most annoying troubles while driving a car that is otherwise in good condition," says William H. Stewart, Jr., president of the Stewart Automobile school. "The squeak may not be anything serious or it may indicate a trouble which may grow to be dangerous. In any case it gives the sensitive motorist no rest until it is removed.

"If the noise occurs when you apply the brakes it is evidently in the brake bands, but other places are not so readily located. For instance, if the car squeaks when you go over water-bars and other bumps the trouble may be in the springs, the spring shackles, the mud guards, fenders, where the body rests on the frame, or a multitude of other places.

Squeaks in Springs.—The trouble frequently occurs in springs and spring shackles, particularly if neglected and allowed to run dry. In order to prevent these parts should be greased over and thoroughly greased at frequent intervals. Jack up the frame to take the weight of the car off the springs. Spread the leaves apart, one by one, using them open with a cold chisel or a screw driver with a metal handle, using a medium weight hammer. The process will chip off some of the paint, but this is unavoidable. Now spread graphite grease between the leaves, using a thin-bladed knife or a back-saw blade. Use cylinder oil mixed with a little kerosene to reach in further than you can force the grease. This will frequently stop a squeak that cannot be reached by the grease alone.

"In rare cases the springs will have to be taken off and the leaves taken apart to give them a thorough oiling, particularly if they have been neglected for a year or more and have become badly rusted. There is a special tool on the market for spreading spring leaves. This may be used to advantage.

Other Offenders.—Hoods and mudguards are frequent offenders. Inspect the strips of rawhide on which the hood rests. If these are broken or missing they must be replaced. Close down hood and see if it rattles in any place. If it does a squeak is sure to develop. Stand on the spring hanger or the running board and shake the car up and down. This will cause the squeak to start, and it is then merely a matter of injecting oil into all places where metal or wood may rub together. If possible tighten the parts and eliminate the cause. An oil gun, with which a heavy oil may be injected with considerable pressure is a great help. Follow the whole length of the mudguards, the bottom and sides of the hood, the hood resters, where running board and mudguards join, the radiator supports and every likely and unlikely place.

"If the brake band squeaks place a little, a very little, grease on drum in space where end of brake bands join. This will be carried into the lining and help stop the squeak. But use very little, as grease is not noted for its tendency to make brakes hold.

"Keep at it and try again. Shake the car to draw the oil into the places mentioned, and go over the work again and again until success crowns your efforts."

Making Adjustments.—Never make adjustments of any kind on the engine unless it is hot. This applies as well to carburetor and ignition work as it does to valves or other parts.

PROPER PRESSURE FOR TIRES

Inflation Should Be Same for All Seasons—Gauge Is Not Absolutely Necessary.

Tire air pressure should remain the same winter and summer, says the manager of a tire company.

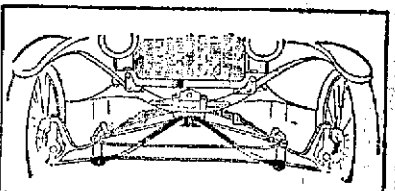

"Many car owners labor under a false impression regarding the tire pressure," he adds. "Tires should not be pumped up harder in the winter months. Likewise pressure should not be reduced in summer because decreases cause the tire to bend more, create more friction and naturally to generate heat. Motorists are inclined to make a complicated matter of inflation. While too little pressure is extremely important and is undoubtedly the biggest abuse tires are put to, determining the proper air pressure for tires is really a simple matter.

"A tire gauge is not absolutely necessary. Just stand in front or rear of your car and observe that the tires are full and round, that they do not sag noticeably under the weight of the car. Proper inflation is so important that no chances should be taken. At all times the tire should receive the benefit of the doubt."

HOLDS AXLE IN ALIGNMENT

Adjustable Radius-Rod Support Fashioned for Certain Car Is Easily Attached.

Broad claims of merit are made for an adjustable radius-rod support that has been fashioned for a certain type of light car. The device is intended to keep the front axle of the machine in proper alignment and relieve driving strains, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. While it is sufficiently strong to prevent an axle from "crawling" back, and a radius rod from being broken thereby, it has enough resiliency to take up the shock in the event of a head-on collision and safeguard the crank case from injury. Attachment of the support is a simple matter, requiring only a few minutes of labor.

FOR INCREASE OF AMPERAGE

Crowd Down Material Near Carbon Element With Small Bit of Wood and Hammer.

Increased amperage may be secured from partly run-down dry cells by crowding the material near the carbon element down with a small bit of wood and a hammer. This loosens the obstructing material from around the carbon and permits free chemical action. The asphaltum material may be sealed again by the use of a little heat.

FEEDING TOO MUCH CURRENT

Owner Who Uses Lights and Starter Very Little Should Avoid Over-charging Battery.

The man who uses lights and starter very little but does a lot of high-speed touring should see to it that he is not feeding too much current to the battery. Most lighting systems have no adjustment for this purpose, and if so, the car should be taken to the service station and the change made.

MANNER OF SHIFTING GEARS

Rasping Usually Is Caused by Inequality Between the Engine and the Clutch Speed.

If the owner cannot shift from high to second without rasping the gears he should moderate his engine slightly at the time of shifting. The rasping usually is caused by an inequality in speed between the engine and the clutch. The belt, however, may drag and cause hard shifting.

MRS. HARRY HANEY'S FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. Harry Haney will leave from her late home in Huntingdon Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be held at Mt. Joy church at 3 o'clock. Interment in Mt. Joy cemetery.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Susan Bushnell Fleming died at the home of her son, Albert Fleming, in Reynoldsville, on Monday. Her remains were shipped to Curwensville Thursday and interred in the Oak Hill cemetery. Her age was 89 years last March. Mrs. Fleming was a Connecticut woman and came to Curwensville a few years prior to the Civil war. She was married to J. Harvey Fleming a few years after the civil war closed, and remained in Curwensville up until about fifteen years ago, when her son A. H. Fleming, removed to Reynoldsville, where he resides. She is survived by two sons, Albert with whom she made her home, and Howard, who went west some twenty years ago, and from whom the family have not heard for twenty years or more. Mrs. Fleming was a devout Christian lady, having united herself with the Methodist denomination many years ago. Her body was brought to this place and interred in the family plot in Oak Hill cemetery.

The Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company have subscribed for $20,000 worth of Victory bonds. This is pretty nearly as much as they subscribed for last year, when work was plentiful and wages a trifle higher than they are now. The campaign will do its utmost to go over the top. The ladies are working hard and are meeting with success wherever they go. The Boy Scouts also deserve special mention for the work they are doing in securing subscriptions. There is no doubt but what the town's full quota will be subscribed for within the next ten days.

The members of the senior class of the High school will present in the opera house on Wednesday evening, May 14th a play called "The Masonic Pin."

These seems to be some doubt among many citizens that Chautauqua will appear in Curwensville this year, all on account of some guarantees getting cold feet. The meeting held last Wednesday was not very well attended.

ON MISSION THRU HUNGARY

Judge Singleton Bell received a post card today from Lt. E. M. McIntosh, a DuBois boy well known in Clearfield, who is on an official mission from A. E. F. headquarters in France. He says:

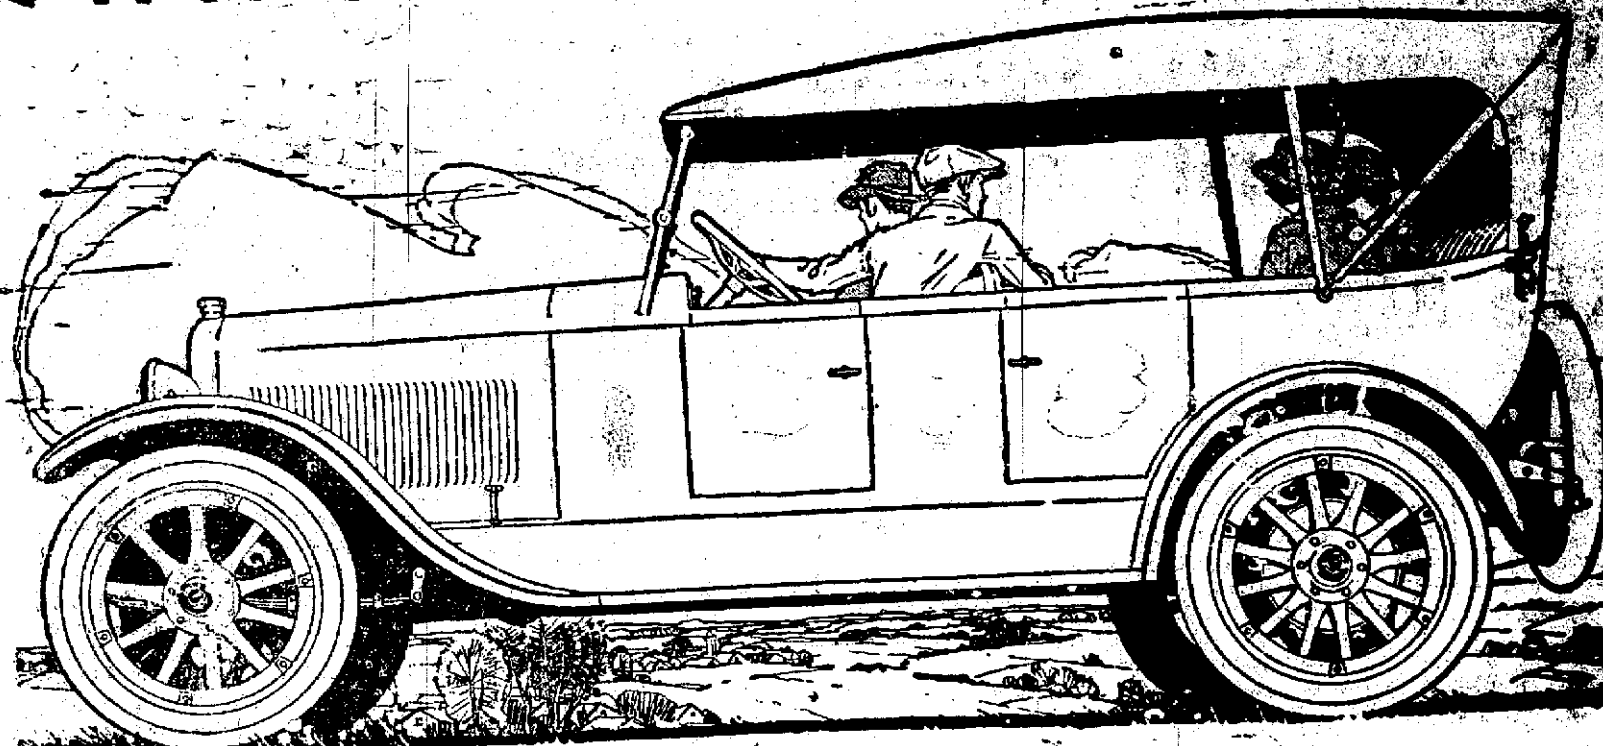

"Dear Judge:—Am on my way to Budapest; came thru Switzerland and Vienna, but were stopped at Budapest by Bolsheviks. Now going south through Hungary. Am the only American on an allied armistice train from Paris. We have 12 machine guns and sort of look for trouble. Kindest regards to the family."

PA. AND OHIO SUE W. VA. FOR GAS SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The states of Ohio and Pennsylvania today asked permission of the Supreme Court to file suits against the state of West Virginia for limiting the flow of natural gas from that state. West Virginia recently passed a law limiting the amount of gas to be piped from that state. Both Ohio and Pennsylvania depend largely on West Virginia for gas for manufacturing purposes and homes.

Come and See the New Chandler Touring Car

Most Beautiful Big-car Offering of the Season.
and the Price is Only $1795

The new Chandler touring model is here. We have waited for it. Old Chandler owners have waited for it. It's here now and we are all proud and happy. The Chandler of the past has had splendid bodies, but the new Chandler touring car even surpasses its immediate fore-runner in beauty of line, in bigness, in comfort of its cushioning, in the nicety of its custom-like workmanship and in its lustrous finish. The new Chandler Touring is a big car. Its high hood and radiator, its broad cowl, its wide and deep doors give it distinctive appearance.

And it RIDES,—it rides like a dream

Nothing has been cut out to permit the delivery of this fine big touring car at the Chandler price. Indeed, many little details of nicety are added. The back curtain window is beveled plate glass. The clear-vision side curtains fit snugly and open with the doors. There are detachable rear quarter-bow curtains. There are outside door handles.

Features which have been standard Chandler qualities in the past are continued. The cushions are upholstered in genuine hand-buffed plaited leather. The front compartment floor boards are covered with heavy gray Maclellan aluminum-bound. The two comfortable auxiliary chairs fold away, entirely concealed, when not in use.

Carrying this Handsome Body Is the Famous Chandler Chassis

You will choose the new Chandler touring for its bigness and its comfort and its handsome dignity. But you will choose it, too, for its mechanical excellence. Fifty thousand Chandler owners know better than we can tell you, what a good car the Chandler is. The famous Chandler motor and the sturdy excellence of the whole chassis make the Chandler notable among fine cars.

The Chandler continues for 1919 all its distinguished mechanical features; solid cast aluminum motor base extending from frame to frame, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, annular ball bearings, Bosch Magneto ignition and many other features of design and equipment characteristic of the highest-class motor car construction.

THE STORY OF A MILK BOTTLE

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The average milk bottle makes only 17 trips before it is broken or lost.

For every consumer who has a quart of milk delivered at the door each day the dealer in the course of a year has to supply 20 new bottles.

This is the report made by dairy experts of the Department of Agriculture, who have just completed an investigation of the staggering waste of milk bottles annually.

The investigation, conducted in 86 cities, shows that the average milk dealer buys 17,649 new bottles a month and the large dealers buy more than 30,000 a month, which are largely, though not entirely, replacement stock.

In 16 of the cities investigated, more than 8,000,000 sound milk bottles are collected annually from the city dumps, the specialists report. In some cities the business carried on by junk dealers is one of the most serious sources of milk bottle losses, they say.

Not only do they sell the bottles to dealers in the city, but often ship them to other towns. Most states have no laws restricting such traffic.

Only 33 cities had milk bottle exchanges, or places where milk bottles from all sources are sorted out and returned to the owner, provided he is a member of the exchange.

SERVICES RENDERED TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS BY CLEARFIELD Y. M. C. A.

May 1 1918 to May 1, 1919

Our Association has extended and granted membership privileges to all the Soldiers and Sailors visiting our Association for the past two years which would total several thousand. The gymnasium was used for an armory or drill hall and the Red Cross and Ladies Aid Society cooked meals in the Y. M. C. A. kitchen and packed several hundred lunch boxes for the drafted men leaving our city.

October 1, 1918 to May 1, 1919

There were 4201 Soldiers and Sailors used the Association's privileges, reading room, pool tables and bowling alleys gymnasium and shower baths. The Secretary and association purchased or furnished 35 meals and gave 21 free beds or night's lodging and purchased tickets and paid several dollars car fare for different soldiers to get back to their command.

ALMOST DIED FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Campbell lost 66 pounds. Regained it, and tells how he got well.

Before I started taking Milks Emulsion the doctor told me it wasn't any use for I was going to die.

But if you could see me now, you would think that what I had been through the matter with me. I was in bed flat on my back, when I commenced taking Milks Emulsion. I had lost 66 pounds. I have regained my health and strength. I don't look like the same man I did three years ago. I wish you could see what it has done for me and my family.

W. Z. Campbell, Carey, Ohio.

Thousands of people who "had to be careful with their diet" or "had to use digestives" have found Milks Emulsion the one thing they needed for quick relief and lasting benefit. It is guaranteed, hence easy to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis, and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful medicine for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Co.

Mrs. Robert Thompson accompanied her son Leslie to Pittsburgh where the latter will parade today with the Bell Telephone unit which saw overseas service.

Louis Bonner, who was recently released from service at Jacksonville, Florida, arrived home last evening.

Why This Store Is Different

Many people have characterized this store as being DIFFERENT from most stores.

We don't know really how to explain this because this store aims to do business in a very broad-minded way.

We aim to so reduce our selling expense as to be able to give our customers the fullest possible measure of value.

And we aim to inculcate in our salespeople the principles of courtesy.

So if this store is different, it is different because it costs every effort to serve the customer 100 per cent. perfect.

This is really a personal chat, rather than a store editorial.

Quite often we hear people talk about the editorials that appear in our ads from time to time and quite often coming from them in conversation. This is done very frequently without the person really realizing that this editorial quotation came directly from some editorial we had published.

We are glad to know that these editorials are read in that spirit.

Most of all it is agreeably surprising to learn that many people quote from these editorials and make mention of them, who often say they never read advertisements.

Remember whether it is an editorial for this store or an advertisement, we aim at all times to tell you something that will be of value to or interest to you.

Dress Warm And Keep Feet Dry

Tell Rheumatic Sufferers To Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous to human affliction it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat least meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure, and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish.

At the first twinges of rheumatism get from any pharmacy a small ounce of J. B. Allen's Uric Acid. It is a powerful purifier of the blood and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to be the water uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to remove uric acid from the blood of the system. J. B. Allen's Uric Acid is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with sugar and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

HARDEN DECLARES GERMANY MUST SIGN DRASTIC TERMS TO SAVE SELF

By FANK J. TAYLOR

PARIS, May 1 (By Courier to Paris, May 3).—"Germany to save herself from disaster must sign any peace terms the Allies demand," Maximilian Harden, editor of the Die Zukunft, and the most outspoken German of prominence told the United Press today.

Harden expressed fear, however, that the people of Germany might refuse to ratify the treaty even if the delegates themselves accept it. Although a radical himself, Harden declared he opposed communism at this time while admitting his belief that the country would be plunged into communism if the treaty was not signed. "The German peace delegates are the worst that possibly could have been chosen," Harden said.

CHINESE PROTEST DISPOSITION OF JAPANESE CLAIM TO SHANTUNG

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, May 3.—Chinese peace delegates took the attitude today that the disposition of the Japanese territorial claims by the "big three" was in direct contravention to the principles enunciated by President Wilson regarding Italy's claims to Fiume.

"Great will be the disappointment of the Chinese people if the council stands firm on this settlement of the Shantung question," declared an official statement issued today by the Chinese. "The Council's handling of the Fiume question seems all the more reason that the Chinese claims should be upheld."

MAKING PREPARATIONS TO RECEIVE
PEACE DELEGATES FROM AUSTRIA

By FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, May 3.—Preparations were begun at St. Germain today for the reception of the Austrian peace delegates although no date has been set for their arrival. This activity was accepted as meaning they will come before the German delegates leave Versailles.

According to recent information separate treaties with Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria are to be taken up in succession. The same conditions are expected to govern these treaties as will govern the German pact. The United Press was informed yesterday that the Germans will be presented with the terms on Monday or Tuesday.

FIRST UNIT OF NEW "OCCUPATION ARMY"
READY TO SAIL FOR FRANCE

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, May 3.—The first unit of the new American "army of occupation" will sail for France next Tuesday. It was announced today at the Port of Embarkation at Hoboken. A thousand soldiers recruited by volunteer enlistments in the last few weeks make up the first detachment to go across. They will relieve drafted men in France and Germany and will help to expedite the homeward movement of the men who were drafted or enlisted for the duration of the war.

KNEW IS COMING TO CLEARFIELD

The oldest of all American shows, John Robinson Circus, is scheduled to appear in Clearfield, Friday May 16th. The two performances will be preceded by the street parade which will traverse the principal thoroughfares at ten o'clock. The entire outfit is said to have been increased twenty-five per cent over previous years, which increase also applies to the street parade, and as coming events cast their shadows before so the splendors of this public pageant may be taken as a foretaste of what is to be viewed later under the big tents. The owners of this great circus, cherished by the Clee family.

THE FIREMEN CONTRIBUTED

The Clearfield Fire Department held its regular monthly meeting with the Elk Hose Company last evening. More than fifty members of the different companies were present with Chief Hoyer presiding. Much business pertaining to increased efficiency in fire fighting was transacted.

Under the head of "good of the order" the matter of the subscription toward paying the expenses of the service men's delegates to St. Louis was taken up and that bunch of firemen contributed $20 toward that fund quicker than one could say Jack Robinson. That's one thing you will have to hand it to our fire laddies for, when there is anything to do they do it and in big time, too.

The Elk Hose boys served an appetizing lunch following the business session.

CITY SHOCKED AT DEATH OF
FRED G. BETTS

Noble Citizen Is Stricken By Apoplexy Shortly Before Six O'clock Last Evening

END CAME FEW HOURS LATER

Frederick G. Betts, eldest son of the late Senator W. W. Betts, died at his home on South Second street a few minutes after 10 o'clock last evening following a severe stroke of apoplexy which he suffered about 5:30 o'clock.

News of Mr. Betts' untimely death was a sad and terrible shock to Clearfield people this morning, the entire community experiencing a sense of loss in the taking away of this good citizen.

FRED G. BETTS

Frederick G. Betts was born in Clearfield on April 11, 1869, and was therefore in his 51st year. He was a graduate of the Clearfield High School and following graduation attended Princeton College. Following his graduation he took up the study of law and was admitted to the Clearfield County Bar on August 27, 1894. He engaged in the practice of law with more or less success for several years, but following the death of his father he devoted his time almost entirely to business pursuits, engaging in the lumber and coal business. He was a keen, thorough business man and an indefatigable worker, qualities which brought him a large measure of success and he was very justly styled one of our most successful young business men.

He was one of the principal stockholders in the Goshen Coal and Lumber Companies, having general charge of the coal business of the concern. He was also a valued director of the County National Bank.

He was a conscientious, Christian gentleman, a devout, lifelong member of the First Presbyterian church and a public spirited citizen, always to be found in the forefront of any movement looking to the advancement of our town and people. Quiet and un-

LATROBE TEACHER WHO WAS LOST IS FOUND A CORPSE

LATROBE, May 3.—The body of Miss Emma Austrau, pretty 19 year old school teacher who has been missing since last Monday, was found in a shed on the abandoned Audray farm near here shortly after eight o'clock this morning. The girl is believed to have been murdered. There was a bad wound on the back of her head which the police believe was inflicted with a blunt instrument in the hands of her assailant.

The body was found by Lawrence Moore, a Derry Township boy who was accompanied by his father. It was lying on the floor in the shed. The girl had been outraged, and then shot through the head, the police said. Her face had been beaten and she had also been beaten on the back of the head by a blunt instrument. She is believed to have been dead 48 hours before the body was found. The boy who found the body was one of Miss Austrau's pupils.

That the girl died after a terrific struggle with her assailant was indicated by the condition of her hands and face and her clothing. Her finger nails were broken, her hands and face scratched and her clothing torn to shreds.

Two men are being held in the Latrobe jail and another suspect is being taken to Greensburg to be questioned regarding the crime. Police authorities are of the opinion that the Austrau girl was kidnapped last Monday evening after leaving the school for home. They believe she was then held prisoner until murdered. Word of the brutal murder and the finding of the body spread like wild fire. Within an hour hundreds of farmers and citizens of Latrobe started in the search of her slayer or slayers. State police, Latrobe police and detectives started to scour the country immediately but thus far no tangible clew has been uncovered. County commissioners of Westmoreland county following the finding of the girl's body announced that a reward would be given for the arrest of the slayer.

Miss Helen Phillips entertained a few friends at a drop in last evening. Music and dancing were the features of the evening.

assuming, he possessed the qualities of head and heart which gripped his friends closely to him. Open-hearted, generous and charitable to an extraordinary degree, no worthy charitable appeal was ever made in vain to him. He lived a consistent Christian life and in his death a man has been removed from among us whose taking away is a distinct loss to the entire community.

Frederick G. Betts was married November 9, 1897, to Miss Bess Bridge, of Clearfield, and is survived by his widow, two sons, and two daughters. He is also survived by two sisters and one brother, viz: Mrs. H. B. Hartwick, of Clearfield; Mrs. Alice B. Walters, of Doylestown, Pa., and William I. Betts, of Clearfield.

The funeral will be held from his late home Monday afternoon at 2:30, interment in Hillcrest cemetery.

PEACE DELEGATES HAD MAINTAINING SECRET

By LOWELL MELLETT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
PARIS—By Mail—Some of the suppressed stories of the peace-making are worth the telling.

There was the time, for example, that M. Pichon, French Secretary for Foreign Affairs, told the assembled correspondents on a Sunday in the very Quai d'Orsay room where the Big Ten had its daily meeting, that the League of Nations could not be embodied in the Preliminary Peace Pact.

Pichon's statement, given out for publication, was strangely missing from all the Paris press next morning. Inquiry revealed that three or four deputy chiefs of the various delegations had spent a busy night rushing by auto from one peace sanctuary to another until a program of suppression had been arranged and then rushing from one French authority to another until all corners of the censorship lid had been riveted down upon the Pichon intimation.

Then there was the period when the French press turned the representatives of the American and British press green by the remarkable accuracy of its accounts of the Big Ten and, sometimes, Big Four conversations. As printed, nobody was quoted, but it became known that the language which the reporter presented as their own was simply that of some of the parties to the conversations. The following has been given by a British correspondent in a journal is favorable to Lloyd George. "Lloyd George today said that the British representatives that it was his duty to sign the peace, the French want."

Lloyd George thereupon abandoned his conferences with the British representatives.

EVERYBODY WANTS A GERMAN HELMET

There is just enough human nature—and frailty in the average Victory Liberty Loan worker to tempt him to try some dark alley method of getting one of those captured German helmets without taking his chance with the rest of the subscribers for it. Of course no bold robbery or embezzlement of helmets has been attempted but every one of the Loan office attaches cast a covetous eye on them when they arrived there. Regulations were carefully read and reread and no method of distribution was permitted which would make it dear that any person or persons were sure of getting a helmet. Victory Loan workers have given up hope of getting a helmet except through the regular channel of a chance on them with their bond subscription. All last evening the helmets were the object of attention from the street crowd and this afternoon there have been few people passed the windows of the Electric Supply company without emulating the example of the young pickanninny when he passed the melon patch. Everybody in town wants one of those helmets. Everybody is no going to get one, this is sure. There is no likelihood that all the fourteen helmets will go to Clearfielders as anyone subscribing thru the Clearfield banks gets an even chance at them. Here's hoping Woodland gets a couple in the final drawing, yes and the downriver country too. There is one in the lot which will fit Doc Lewis of Surveyor to a gnat's whisker.

It has been the usual program that during the summer months there has been a surplus of milk and as soon as the summer pasturage fell off there was a corresponding shortage of milk. This in turn made the filling of the demands of Clearfield milk consumers harder and harder to meet. It will be remembered that during the flu epidemic last fall only those whose homes were harboring convalescents were furnished with their supply of milk. This was a serious handicap to combating the disease. Manager Healey was adamant in his ruling and was, no doubt, responsible in many cases for the quicker recuperation of many flu victims.

$125,000 LOSS TO
PENNSY IN TUNNEL
FIRE AT SABULA

J. J. Rhoads, superintendent of the Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania railroad, after making an inspection of the wreck and fire at the Sabula tunnel, stated that the loss would approximate $125,000. This, of course, does not include the wheelage that will be charged against the Pennsylvania railroad by the B. & S. railroad for trains run over the latter road while repairs are being made to the tunnel. If this charge were included the loss would run much higher.

Mr. Rhoads stated that 155 feet of the 1964 feet of tunnel had caved in as a result of the fire, so that it will be some time before traffic is restored on the Pennsylvania railroad. The fire was finally extinguished at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and the work of removing the damaged cars started. Mr. Rhoads stated that the derailment was probably due to a brake beam falling on the track.

DROP IN PRICE OF MILK ANNOUNCED

An announcement by the Clearfield Milk Depot to the effect that the price of milk will be lowered one and two-thirds cents per quart will be a welcome news to the consumers of Clearfield who have been complaining of the high price of milk.

For some time Mr. E. D. Healey, the manager of the Clearfield Milk Depot, has been doing much work among the farmers of this vicinity in the interests of greater milk production and at last he has convinced them that he has a market for all the milk that can be produced hereabouts.

It has been the usual program that during the summer months there has been a surplus of milk and as soon as the summer pasturage fell off there was a corresponding shortage of milk. This in turn made the filling of the demands of Clearfield milk consumers harder and harder to meet. It will be remembered that during the flu epidemic last fall only those whose homes were harboring convalescents were furnished with their supply of milk. This was a serious handicap to combating the disease. Manager Healey was adamant in his ruling and was, no doubt, responsible in many cases for the quicker recuperation of many flu victims.

Arrangements have been made with the local ice cream factory whereby the summer surplus of milk will be put through a condensing machine and stored for use during the season when milk is short. This is a step forward in the right direction. The selling price of milk to the householders is now 13 cents the quart.

PRICE OF PEACE SCHEDULE FOR NEXT WEEK

The war film "The Price of Peace" will be shown at the following towns next week.

Irvington, Monday.
Coalport, Tuesday.
Oscar, Wednesday.
Clever Run, Thursday.
Mahaffey, Friday.

It is believed that the film "The Price of Peace" will be shown at each of the above towns. The picture is urged to see them. The picture is a completely new and it is one of the greatest exhibitions of American participation in the war. The picture was filmed under the most time conditions and the battle scenes are all realities.

Back Home

Look at the boys who are home and then realize that, had the war gone on six months longer, 100,000 more of them would have been sleeping beneath wooden crosses in France, and 300,000 more of them would have been wounded, to say nothing of an additional expenditure of at least fifteen billions of dollars. These are official figures.

What saved them? Our enormous preparation. That broke down German morale and ended the war.

THE FRESH BOY

The teacher's favorite is not always the good boy, who comes to school on time who keeps his eyes demurely on his book, who has the answer ready and right, who minds his own business and keeps out of mischief.

Nor is such a lad invariably the one who in the long run forges to the front and makes good.

There is a line to be drawn between the "bad" boy and the boy whose irrepressible animal spirits are always tempting him away from the printed page to playfulness.

Because he is vivacious he is not necessarily vicious. Because he is mettlesome and even meddlesome, he is not of the lowbrow Lombroso order of ruffian.

Let it be recognized that it is a priceless quality in the human animal, this exuberance that becomes tiresome very quickly to anemic, conventional, deliberate people.

There is great hope for the boy who is "too fresh." He is a trial indeed in the days of his cubhood. He is impertinent and insatiable. He is a Paul Pry ever exploring and asking questions. He burps his fingers, monkey-wise with inane experiment. You cannot say what he will do next, and he keeps the parental heart in the throat with nervous expectancy.

But in the time to come that supply of roaring, racing, full-blooded energy will stand him in good stead.

Some day he may need to draw on that reservoir where the life-force is stored. A great crisis will impose on him a tax heavier than any national impost in wartime.

As the years roll past circumstances will conspire to wear him down—to quench his enthusiasm—to persuade him to desist and submit, and take things easy, and go tamely through the motions instead of with an ardor, splendidly.

Then that untamed restlessness of his early days will save him. He will have a fund of vitality to depend upon.

The boy who seems "too fresh" is often the boy whose appetite for information is a hopeful sign, though his perpetual interrogation may provoke his elders to snub him and may make him a trying traveling companion. That a lad who wants to know so much should be found exasperating is sometimes to the discredit of the one who is exasperated. Undoubtedly in many instances it is a sad mistake to rebuke the inquisitiveness of a child to whom all the world is a miracle. The child that "only does it to annoy because he knows it teases" is not to be confused with the child who sincerely wants to be told the meaning of picture and sound about him.

With the world aging so rapidly there is constantly more for a child to learn. The child who has entered school since the war has the war to memorize as well as everything else. The word never was so full of a number of things for the school child as it is at present. One must come "fresh" to one's desk of a morning to be ready for such a lot of learning as there is to absorb nowadays. Let us give thanks, therefore, for that unspoiled, upspringing veridancy of childhood even as we give thanks for the redness of grass and flowers newly brought by the coming of spring. (Public Ledger).

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Evangelist G. W. Lawrence will preach at the Seventh Day Adventist church Sunday night on "Who changed the Sabbath; was it divine or human agency."

I saw it in The Progress

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung, some days, really incapacitated by illness?

If we all would practice, inside-bathing, what a refreshing change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clean the inside organs of the previous day's accumulations of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a compound of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweating and purifying the endless nights have become real cranks more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone is cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

Mr. Gladstone was once heard to remark that if all the wits of men were to be united in one brain, that man would be unable to appraise with perfect justice any single moral action. "The shades of the rainbow," he wrote, "are not so nice, the sands of the seashore are not such a multitude, as are the subtle, shifting, blending forms of thought and of circumstances that go to determine the character of one act. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MAN MADE IN THE IMAGE OF GOD.

LESSON TEXTS—Genesis 1:26-28; Ephesians 4:20-24; Genesis 2:1-9.

GOLDEN TEXT—God created man in his own image.—Gen. 1:27.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Our Creator and Father.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What God Expects From His Children.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Loyalty to Our Heavenly Father.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Dignity and Worth of Man.

1. The Creation of Man (Gen. 1:26-28).

1. Time—when the earth, his home, was ready for him. The order in creation shows design on the part of God. He anticipated man's need in storing the coal in the earth, piling up minerals in the rocks, storing electricity everywhere, causing the water to gush from the valleys and hillsides, preparing plants and herbs for the healing of man's injuries and food and raiment adapted to every climatic condition.

2. His nature (vv. 26, 27). He was created in the likeness and image of God. This act was preceded by a special counsel of the Godhead. It was said, "Let us make man." This precludes the foolish and wicked assumption that man ascended from or through the brute. He came into being by a special creative act of God. This creative act is confirmed by Christ (Matt. 19:4; Mark 10:8). With such testimony we can dismiss the evolution theory as to man's origin as a human vagary. This likeness and image is not physical and bodily, but intellectual. (Eph. 4:24), and moral. (Col. 3:10). Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). God's likeness is reflected in man's tripartite nature. As there is a trinity and unity in God, so there is a trinity and unity in man. Spirit is the highest part of man, that which makes it possible for him to know God. The soul is man's self-conscious life, the seat of his emotions and desires. The body is the seat of the senses, the agency by which he knows the world. God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with himself, with whom he could share his glory.

3. His rank and power (vv. 26, 28). Man, the last in creation, was placed above all else, over all the rest of creation. Being in the likeness and image of God, he was fitted to rule. How far short man comes of living up to the position given him by the Creator! The first man was not a savage, neither a baby. Fresh from the Creator's hands he possessed such lofty powers of intellect as to enable him to name the beasts as they passed before him. (Gen. 2:19, 20).

11. Man Alone in Paradise (Gen. 2:7-9).

Adam had a most beautiful place in which to live. "Pleasant to the eyes, and good for food" describes his surroundings. His environment was in keeping with his nature. Eden was only fit for him in an unfallen state. As soon as his nature was wrecked, out he must go. Paradise with all its splendor could not satisfy man. His heart was desolate. Reciprocal love is the only thing that can satisfy the heart of man. Animals of all varieties surrounded him, but none were adapted to be his companions. To accentuate this need God caused the animals to pass before Adam. He was differentiated from all the animals in that he was a personality. He was endowed with the power of love, therefore only a being who could love in return could satisfy him. To meet this need woman was made for man. They had minds alike; they had spiritual natures alike; therefore they could commune together about the things that surrounded them and about God.

Man was made from the dust of the ground and woman was taken from his side. She is therefore one remove further from the earth than man. The fact that woman was made from man's rib points to unity, similarity and equality. God charged this first pair with the responsibility of replenishing the earth. (Gen. 1:28). Marriage is a divine institution and most sacred; for God made them male and female and performed the first marriage ceremony. In view of this polygamy and divorce are grossly criminal. Marriage is the fountainhead of all life, religious, social and national, therefore corruption here is most fatal.

Suppose there were no more advertisements

Just imagine for a minute that some power could stop all advertising. How would that effect you?

It would cut you off from all direct, commercial news about things that you need and use in your every day life. Somebody might be selling a new, better, more economical food; or a utensil that would save money and time; or an article that would add greatly to your comfort and well-being; or some better material for making shoes or clothing---but you would never know it.

Merchants and manufacturers would be unable to tell you about new and better things. They would thus find it hard to get these things on the market, and often would not try.

Merchants, unable to tell you what they had to offer you, could not take the risk of buying goods for which the might have no customers.

"It pays to advertise." And advertising pays not only the advertiser and publisher, but pays you too. It keeps you informed about the thing you need in order to live a profitable, happy and useful life in this age of progress.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Evangelist G. W. Lawrence will preach at the Seventh Day Adventist church Sunday night on "Who changed the Sabbath; was it divine or human agency."

I saw it in The Progress

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung, some days, really incapacitated by illness?

If we all would practice, inside-bathing, what a refreshing change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under our present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out, else it ferments and forms ptomaine like poisons which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clean the inside organs of the previous day's accumulations of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a compound of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins thus cleansing, sweating and purifying the endless nights have become real cranks more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone is cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.

MAN MADE IN THE IMAGE OF GOD.

LESSON TEXTS—Genesis 1:26-28; Ephesians 4:20-24; Genesis 2:1-9.

GOLDEN TEXT—God created man in his own image.—Gen. 1:27.

DEVOTIONAL READING—Psalms 8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Our Creator and Father.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What God Expects From His Children.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Loyalty to Our Heavenly Father.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Dignity and Worth of Man.

1. The Creation of Man (Gen. 1:26-28).

1. Time—when the earth, his home, was ready for him. The order in creation shows design on the part of God. He anticipated man's need in storing the coal in the earth, piling up minerals in the rocks, storing electricity everywhere, causing the water to gush from the valleys and hillsides, preparing plants and herbs for the healing of man's injuries and food and raiment adapted to every climatic condition.

2. His nature (vv. 26, 27). He was created in the likeness and image of God. This act was preceded by a special counsel of the Godhead. It was said, "Let us make man." This precludes the foolish and wicked assumption that man ascended from or through the brute. He came into being by a special creative act of God. This creative act is confirmed by Christ (Matt. 19:4; Mark 10:8). With such testimony we can dismiss the evolution theory as to man's origin as a human vagary. This likeness and image is not physical and bodily, but intellectual. (Eph. 4:24), and moral. (Col. 3:10). Man is spirit, soul and body (1 Thess. 5:23). God's likeness is reflected in man's tripartite nature. As there is a trinity and unity in God, so there is a trinity and unity in man. Spirit is the highest part of man, that which makes it possible for him to know God. The soul is man's self-conscious life, the seat of his emotions and desires. The body is the seat of the senses, the agency by which he knows the world. God made man with a personality capable of having fellowship with himself, with whom he could share his glory.

3. His rank and power (vv. 26, 28). Man, the last in creation, was placed above all else, over all the rest of creation. Being in the likeness and image of God, he was fitted to rule. How far short man comes of living up to the position given him by the Creator! The first man was not a savage, neither a baby. Fresh from the Creator's hands he possessed such lofty powers of intellect as to enable him to name the beasts as they passed before him. (Gen. 2:19, 20).

With THEM- to the VERY LAST

We've been with our boys since the very first—since that day, two Aprils ago, when the Kaiser's throne commenced to totter.

Shall we forsake them now when, wounded and homesick, they need us most?

Shall we abandon them, or shall we stay with them by buying Victory Liberty Bonds?

Well, then, buy to your full limit.

SURGEON PROBES BIRD OF THEFT

Turns Sherlock Holmes When Instruments Are Stolen and Finds Culprit.

SOLVES BIG MYSTERY

For Fifteen Years the Doctor Has Been Grand High Pigeon-Feeder of His Neighborhood—Hence the Story.

Clearfield.—This is the solution of the 777 story of the theft of surgical instruments from the office of Dr. E. W. Hunter, 1113 East Sixty-third street. It is a plain unvarnished tale, and might be entitled "Peanuts, Probes and Pigeons."

It begins with the pigeons. They are the ones that get so familiar on short acquaintance at the University avenue station of the "L." There are oodles and oodles of them and they behave as if the station platform were theirs by prescriptive right. If you offer them a peanut from the slot machine, so conveniently at hand, they will take it as, if they were collecting a debt long overdue. If you don't offer them a peanut they look reproachfully at you. If there were an interpreter of pigeon-English at hand, as in Mark Twain's story of the hermit and the jaybirds, he would probably tell you they were remarking:

"This must be one of those pikers from the Gold Coast neighborhood!"

Throws Peanuts to the Birds.

The principal reason the University avenue pigeons are so cocksure of their own privileges is Doctor Hunter. For 15 years he has had an office overlooking the "L" station. For the 15 years he has been the Grand High Pigeon-Feeder of the neighborhood. He not only throws peanuts to the birds, but he levies on his friends. Patients who visit his office always take in a few pennies to buy the succulent fruit of the goober pie.

At the back of his office is an old storeroom, with openings through which the pigeons can fly whenever they are cold or sleepy. And this is where the probes come in.

Miscreant Tracked Down.
The doctor has a fine collection of surgical instruments. They are the pride of his heart and the delight of his eye. They look so nice and shiny and bright in their case one could almost call them tempting if they were anything else than surgical instruments.

On one of these recent balmy, spring-like days, the doctor noticed that some of his probes were gone. The next day some more had disappeared. The doctor became his own Sherlock. There were no clues. But today he followed a trail of surgical instruments into the back room. He was about to telephone for the police when he heard an angry "look-at-the-coon" as ever came from a pigeon's throat.

The doctor continued investigations. He found his missing surgical instruments piled criss-cross and a mamma pigeon trying her level best to shape them into a nest.

Bring Us Your Worn Tires

Don't junk your worn auto tires. No matter how hard service you've given them—bring them here and let us tell you frankly whether there's mileage enough in them to pay you for having them repaired.

WE VULCANIZE NEW LIFE INTO TIRES

There's no tire vulcanizing job that we're not prepared to do. And there's no "job" that leaves this place without our guarantee going with it. We'll save any auto owner money on his tire expenses. We'll tell you frankly whether the tires are worth fixing.

Government Loans and Prosperity or Taxes and Tight Money

THE United States has ten billion dollars of unpaid war bills that must be paid if the nation is to maintain its credit standing before the world.

And it must get the money with which to pay them from us—in either loans or taxes.

There's only one choice—to oversubscribe the Victory Liberty Loan now, or to pay even higher taxes later on.

And anybody would rather subscribe to a Victory Loan than pay a tax.

But granting that you would rather pay taxes, the matter doesn't end there.

The consequences of such a choice would affect the prosperity of this country—your individual prosperity—for years to come.

The Government has already had to borrow from the banks a large part of the money with which it is meeting current bills

If we don't raise the money now to pay off those borrowings by oversubscribing the Victory Liberty Loan, the banks in turn cannot lend to American merchants, manufacturers and exporters the money needed for the expansion of American business and the payment of good wages.

Each bank has only so much money to lend. It can't lend it to business men and to the Government at the same time.

The business men MUST have bank loans in order to start industry humming, pay good wages, and bring about the period of prosperity we are all looking forward to.

THE VICTORY LOAN MEANS BUSINESS, new enterprises started, factories enlarged, business expansion, export trade secured, plenty of employment and good wages.

TAXES MEAN TIGHT MONEY, business curtailed, credits cut down, building plans held up, export opportunities lost, factories shut down, and an ever-increasing army of unemployed.

There's no question of patriotism or sentiment involved in that—just hard-headed business sense

It is true, we want to "finish up the job." We want to see that every last one of the boys who fought or prepared to fight for us is brought home, the wounded cared for, good jobs found for all. We want to go over the top in the Victory Liberty Loan, as we have each time the Government has called on us.

We want to do all these things BECAUSE WE ARE AMERICANS

It just happens, in the matter of the Victory Loan vs. Taxes, that it is also to our best interest to do so.

LUBRICANT WILL STOP SQUEAKING

Tighten Bolts Here and There Around Machine and Make Liberal Use of Oil.

TROUBLE IS MOST ANNOYING

Noises Frequently Occur in Springs and Spring Shackles if Neglected and Allowed to Run Dry—Hoods Are Offenders.

"Squeak, squeak," said the car, and again it said "squeak, squeak, squeak," while the driver pondered unmentionable thoughts. "This is one of the most annoying troubles while driving a car that is otherwise in good condition," says William H. Stewart, Jr., president of the Stewart Automobile school. "The squeak may not be anything serious or it may indicate a trouble which may grow to be dangerous. In any case it gives the sensitive motorist no rest until it is removed.

"If the noise occurs when you apply the brakes it is evidently in the brake bands, but other places are not so readily located. For instance, if the car squeaks when you go over water-bars and other bumps the trouble may be in the springs, the spring shackles, the mud guards, fenders, where the body rests on the frame, or a multitude of other places.

Squeaks in Springs.—The springs and shackles, particularly if neglected and allowed to run dry, are a cause to prevent these parts should be greased over and thoroughly greased at frequent intervals. Jack up the frame to take the weight of the car off the springs. Spread the leaves apart, one by one, using them open with a cold chisel or a screw driver with a metal handle, using a medium weight hammer. The process will chip off some of the paint, but this is unavoidable. Now spread graphite-grease between the leaves, using a thin-bladed knife or a back-saw blade. Use cylinder oil mixed with a little kerosene to reach in further than you can force the grease. This will frequently stop a squeak that cannot be reached by the grease alone.

"In rare cases the springs will have to be taken off and the leaves taken apart to give them a thorough oiling, particularly if they have been neglected for a year or more and have become badly rusted. There is a special tool on the market for spreading spring leaves. This may be used to advantage.

Other Offenders.—Hoods and mudguards are frequent offenders. Inspect the strips of rawhide on which the hood rests. If these are broken or missing they must be replaced. Close down hood and see if it rattles in any place. If it does a squeak is sure to develop. Stand on the spring hanger or the running board and shake the car up and down. This will cause the squeak to start, and it is then merely a matter of injecting oil into all places where metal or wood may rub together. If possible tighten the parts and eliminate the cause. An oil gun, with which a heavy oil may be injected with considerable pressure is a great help. Follow the whole length of the mudguards, the bottom and sides of the hood, the hood resters, where running board and mudguards join, the radiator supports and every likely and unlikely place.

"If the brake band squeaks place a little, a very little, grease on drum in space where end of brake bands join. This will be carried into the lining and help stop the squeak. But use very little, as grease is not noted for its tendency to make brakes hold.

"Keep at it and try again. Shake the car to draw the oil into the places mentioned, and go over the work again and again until success crowns your efforts."

Making Adjustments.—Never make adjustments of any kind on the engine unless it is hot. This applies as well to carburetor and ignition work as it does to valves or other parts.

PROPER PRESSURE FOR TIRES

Inflation Should Be Same for All Seasons—Gauge Is Not Absolutely Necessary.

Tire air pressure should remain the same winter and summer, says the manager of a tire company.

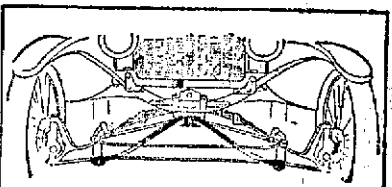

"Many car owners labor under a false impression regarding the tire pressure," he adds. "Tires should not be pumped up harder in the winter months. Likewise pressure should not be reduced in summer because decreases cause the tire to bend more, create more friction and naturally to generate heat. Motorists are inclined to make a complicated matter of inflation. While too little pressure is extremely important and is undoubtedly the biggest abuse tires are put to, determining the proper air pressure for tires is really a simple matter.

"A tire gauge is not absolutely necessary. Just stand in front or rear of your car and observe that the tires are full and round, that they do not sag noticeably under the weight of the car. Proper inflation is so important that no chances should be taken. At all times the tire should receive the benefit of the doubt."

HOLDS AXLE IN ALIGNMENT

Adjustable Radius-Rod Support Fashioned for Certain Car Is Easily Attached.

Broad claims of merit are made for an adjustable radius-rod support that has been fashioned for a certain type of light car. The device is intended to keep the front axle of the machine in proper alignment and relieve driving strains, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. While it is sufficiently strong to prevent an axle from "crawling" back, and a radius rod from being broken thereby, it has enough resiliency to take up the shock in the event of a head-on collision and safeguard the crank case from injury. Attachment of the support is a simple matter, requiring only a few minutes of labor.

Showing the Adjustable Radius-Rod Support in Place, Bracing the Front Axle in a Way to Prevent Back "Crawling."

FOR INCREASE OF AMPERAGE

Crowd Down Material Near Carbon Element With Small Bit of Wood and Hammer.

Increased amperage may be secured from partly run-down dry cells by crowding the material near the carbon element down with a small bit of wood and a hammer. This loosens the obstructing material from around the carbon and permits free chemical action. The asphaltum material may be sealed again by the use of a little heat.

FEEDING TOO MUCH CURRENT

Owner Who Uses Lights and Starter Very Little Should Avoid Over-charging Battery.

The man who uses lights and starter very little but does a lot of high-speed touring should see to it that he is not feeding too much current to the battery. Most lighting systems have no adjustment for this purpose, and if so, the car should be taken to the service station and the change made.

MANNER OF SHIFTING GEARS

Rasping Usually Is Caused by Inequality Between the Engine and the Clutch Speed.

If the owner cannot shift from high to second without rasping the gears he should moderate his engine slightly at the time of shifting. The rasping usually is caused by an inequality in speed between the engine and the clutch. The belt, however, may drag and cause fast shifting.

MRS. HARRY HANEY'S FUNERAL

The funeral of Mrs. Harry Haney will leave from her late home in Huntingdon Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be held at Mt. Joy church at 3 o'clock. Interment in Mt. Joy cemetery.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

Mrs. Susan Bushnell Fleming died at the home of her son, Albert Fleming, in Reynoldsville, on Monday. Her remains were shipped to Curwensville Thursday and interred in the Oak Hill cemetery. Her age was 89 years last March. Mrs. Fleming was a Connecticut woman and came to Curwensville a few years prior to the Civil war. She was married to J. Harvey Fleming a few years after the civil war closed, and remained in Curwensville up until about fifteen years ago, when her son A. H. Fleming, removed to Reynoldsville, where he resides. She is survived by two sons, Albert with whom she made her home, and Howard, who went west some twenty years ago, and from whom the family have not heard for twenty years or more. Mrs. Fleming was a devout Christian lady, having united herself with the Methodist denomination many years ago. Her body was brought to this place and interred in the family plot in Oak Hill cemetery.

The Pennsylvania Hide and Leather company have subscribed for $20,000 worth of Victory bonds. This is pretty nearly as much as they subscribed for last year, when work was plentiful and wages a trifle higher than they are now. The campaign will do its utmost to go over the top. The ladies are working hard and are meeting with success wherever they go. The Boy Scouts also deserve special mention for the work they are doing in securing subscriptions. There is no doubt but what the town's full quota will be subscribed for within the next ten days.

The members of the senior class of the High school will present in the opera house on Wednesday evening, May 14th a play called "The Masonic Pin."

These seems to be some doubt among many citizens that Chautauqua will appear in Curwensville this year, all on account of some guarantees getting cold feet. The meeting held last Wednesday was not very well attended.

PA. AND OHIO SUE W. VA. FOR GAS SUPPLY

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The states of Ohio and Pennsylvania today asked permission of the Supreme Court to file suits against the state of West Virginia for limiting the flow of natural gas from that state. West Virginia recently passed a law limiting the amount of gas to be piped from that state. Both Ohio and Pennsylvania depend largely on West Virginia for gas for manufacturing purposes and homes.

Come and See the New Chandler Touring Car

Most Beautiful Big-car Offering of the Season.
and the Price is Only $1795

THE new Chandler touring model is here. We have waited for it. Old Chandler owners have waited for it. It's here now and we are all proud and happy. The Chandler of the past has had splendid bodies, but the new Chandler touring car even surpasses its immediate fore-runner in beauty of line, in bigness, in comfort of its cushioning, in the nicety of its custom-like workmanship and in its lustrous finish. The new Chandler Touring is a big car. Its high hood and radiator, its broad cowl, its wide and deep doors give it distinctive appearance.

And it RIDES,—it rides like a dream

Nothing has been cut out to permit the delivery of this fine big touring car at the Chandler price. Indeed, many little details of nicety are added. The back curtain window is beveled plate glass. The clear-vision side curtains fit snugly and open with the doors. There are detachable rear quarter-bow curtains. There are outside door handles.

Features which have been standard Chandler qualities in the past are continued. The cushions are upholstered in genuine hand-buffed platted leather. The front compartment floor boards are covered with heavy gray Maclellan aluminum-bound. The two comfortable auxiliary chairs fold away, entirely concealed, when not in use.

Carrying this Handsome Body Is the Famous Chandler Chassis

You will choose the new Chandler touring for its bigness and its comfort and its handsome dignity. But you will choose it, too, for its mechanical excellence. Fifty thousand Chandler owners know better than we can tell you, what a good car the Chandler is. The famous Chandler motor and the sturdy excellence of the whole chassis make the Chandler notable among fine cars.

The Chandler continues for 1919 all its distinguished mechanical features; solid cast aluminum motor base extending from frame to frame, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, annular ball bearings, Bosch Magneto ignition and many other features of design and equipment characteristic of the highest-class motor car construction.

Friday, May 9th, at Beccaria.

In weighing as much as a wagon-load of grain in some parts of India, when regulation weights may not easily be obtainable, the weigher resorts to the practice of substituting his elbow for the 5-pound weight, and his half-bent knee for the 10-pound weight. Both buyer and vendor seem to be satisfied with this method, which is remarkably precise in the hands of the adepts.

THE STORY OF A MILK BOTTLE

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The average milk bottle makes only 17 trips before it is broken or lost.

For every consumer who has a quart of milk delivered at the door each day the dealer in the course of a year has to supply 20 new bottles.

This is the report made by dairy experts of the Department of Agriculture, who have just completed an investigation of the staggering waste of milk bottles annually.

The investigation, conducted in 86 cities, shows that the average milk dealer buys 17,649 new bottles a month and the large dealers buy more than 30,000 a month, which are largely, though not entirely, replacement stock.

In 16 of the cities investigated, more than 8,000,000 sound milk bottles are collected annually from the city dumps, the specialists report. In some cities the business carried on by junk dealers is one of the most serious sources of milk bottle losses, they say.

Not only do they sell the bottles to dealers in the city, but often ship them to other towns. Most states have no laws restricting such traffic.

Only 33 cities had milk bottle exchanges, or places where milk bottles from all sources are sorted out and returned to the owner, provided he is a member of the exchange.

SERVICES RENDERED TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS BY CLEARFIELD Y. M. C. A.

May 1 1918 to May 1, 1919

Our Association has extended and granted membership privileges to all the Soldiers and Sailors visiting our Association for the past two years which would total several thousand. The gymnasium was used for an armory or drill hall and the Red Cross and Ladies Aid Society cooked meals in the Y. M. C. A. kitchen and packed several hundred lunch boxes for the drafted men leaving our city.

October 1, 1918 to May 1, 1919

There were 4201 Soldiers and Sailors used the Association privileges, reading room, pool tables and bowling alleys gymnasium and shower baths. The Secretary and association purchased or furnished 35 meals and gave 21 free beds or night's lodging and purchased tickets and paid several dollars car fare for different soldiers to get back to their command.

ALMOST DIED FROM STOMACH TROUBLE

Mr. Campbell lost 66 pounds. Regained it, and tells how he got well.

"Before I started taking Milks Emulsion the doctor told me it wasn't any use for I was going to die. But if you could see me now, you would think that what I had been through the matter with me. I was in bed flat on my back, when I commenced taking Milks Emulsion. I had lost 66 pounds. I have regained my health and strength. I don't look like the same man I did three years ago. I wish you could see what it has done for me and my family." W. Z. Campbell, Carey, Ohio.

"Thousands of people who 'had to be careful with their diet' or 'had to use digestives' have found Milks Emulsion the one thing they needed for quick relief and lasting benefit. It is guaranteed, hence easy to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to run-down nervous people, and it has produced amazing results in many cases of asthma, chronic bronchitis, and tuberculosis of the lungs. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. A truly wonderful remedy for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold and guaranteed by Stewart's Drug Co.

New York May 3.—Churches of all denominations and in all parts of the United States have responded to the suggestion of the United States Employment Service for the observance tomorrow of "Employment Sunday". From thousands of pulpits pleas will be made for aid in replacing the discharged soldiers and sailors in industry.

The idea originated with the Methodist committee on reconstruction at home and has been adopted by all Protestant denominations represented in the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Store Editor

Why This Store Is Different

Many people have characterized this store as being DIFFERENT from most stores.

We don't know really how to explain this because this store aims to do business in a very broad-minded way.

We aim to so reduce our selling expense as to be able to give our customers the fullest possible measure of value.

And we aim to inculcate in our salespeople the principles of courtesy.

So if this store is different, it is different because it costs every effort to serve the customer 100 per cent. perfect.

This is really a personal chat, rather than a store editorial.

Quite often we hear people talk about the editorials that appear in our ads from time to time and quite often coming from them in conversation. This is done very frequently without the person really realizing that this editorial quotation came directly from some editorial we had published.

We are glad to know that these editorials are read in that spirit.

Most of all it is agreeably surprising to learn that many people quote from these editorials and make mention of them, who often say they never read advertisements.

Remember whether it is an editorial for this store or an advertisement, we aim at all times to tell you something that will be of value to or interest to you.
